Some recent amendments to information regarding a couple of Cityliner's route times and frequencies as well as contact numbers follow. By the way, the routes run by Cityliner are variously mentioned as run by Transnasional and Klang-Banting. If we sometimes sound confused, that's because we are! We believe the definition of operational entities goes something like this: Transnasional (or officially Kumpulan Transnasional Berhad) own various subsidiaries which include Klang-Banting, which has historically run routes between KL and Klang and Banting.

Because we concentrate on buses which run within the Klang Valley, the Transnasional routes that concern us are thus mainly those run by subsidiary Klang-Banting.

Now some of you might be putting up your hands and saying, "Hang on, isn't Cityliner the defunct operator that was one of the entities merged into RapidKL?" How right you are! Somehow or other, this name has resurrected within the stable of Transnasional however, running the routes which we have previously been acquainted with, i.e. from Klang (and Port Klang and Banting) to KL, along Federal Highway. While Cityliner may not be a subsidiary within Transnasional (we're not sure), it is said to be the brand for these routes anyway.... I know!!

But back to the matter at hand, the routes affected by our recent update (received from Transnasional) are:

Route 730 (Port Klang - KL, Klang Bus Stand): runs from 05:50 to 18:30 (times at Port Klang) at frequency of every 40 minutes.

Route 710 (Banting - KL, Klang Bus Stand): runs from 05:00 to 21:15 (times at Banting) at frequency of every 20 minutes.

The updated data is highlighted in bold.
